Alcom Printing Group, Inc. Named 2020 Printing Industries of America Safety Shield Designation

SafetyShield
2020

Harleysville, PA –February 1, 2020 – Alcom Printing Group, Inc. of Harleysville, PA, a western suburb of Philadelphia, has been awarded the 2020 Printing Industries of America Safety Shield designation in the 2020 Best Workplace in the Americas (BWA) awards competition. The BWA awards, presented by Printing Industries of America (PIA), is awarded annually to only those companies meeting rigorous standards in safety and human resources practices.

Companies that applied for a Safety Shield designation were evaluated based on Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) compliance standards and best practices in environmental, health, and safety (EHS).

“Alcom is one of the premier companies in the printing industry for employee experiences,” said Adriane Harrison, vice president of Human Relations at PIA. “This award is a testament to Alcom’s leadership in developing an ‘employer of choice’ culture.”

“It’s an honor to be recognized by the industry as a company that offers a superior workplace. Winning both the Safety Shield designation along with Best Workplace is an honor,” said Doug Yeager, COO.

Michael F. Makin, president and CEO of PIA, agrees. “Safety Shield designation and The Best Workplace in the Americas award recipients stand among the most distinguished printing industry leaders by human resources and safety standards. Congratulations to Alcom for its outstanding achievement in both areas of excellence.”
